

Jhoely Triana

Flamenco Dancer, Vancouver, BC

Jhoely Triana, born in Colombia, is a Vancouver based flamenco dancer and choreographer. Jhoely trained at the Goh Ballet Academy, completed a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Contemporary Dance at Simon Fraser University, and now continues her artistic development with Kasandra "La China" and Oscar Nieto at Al Mozaico Flamenco. Since 2016, she has performed at the Victoria Flamenco Festival, Vancouver International Flamenco Festival and various community events and showcases.

In 2017, she danced at the 30th anniversary community showcase of the Festival Flamenco Internacional de Albuquerque where she represented Vancouver. In 2018, she produced and started in her own show "Juerga Flamenca" which was funded by a grant from Britannia Community Artist Grant program.

Jhoely's work emphasizes connection to audience through authenticity of emotion and vulnerability. She performs regularly at the Kino Cafe and East is East Restaurant in Vancouver.
